It was a day like any other day in the Hyrule Temple. Well, in the Super Smash Bros. Brawl world anyway. Link and Pit were fighting against each other. They each only had one stock left. Pit was at 87% damage and Link was at 79% damage. All of a sudden a smash ball appeared. Link tried to make a grab for it but Pit got to it first. Pit then unleashed his final smash, Palutena's Army. The centurions appeared and then two of them hit Link dead on. Link went flying off screen and was seen in the background and disappeared in a speck of light.

Narrator: GAME! THE WINNER IS... PIT!

Afterwards, Link was relaxing while his body healed up from the brawl he had with Pit.

???: Hey Link.

Link turned around and saw Pit. Pit walked towards Link and sat next to him.

Pit: You ok?

Link: Yeah I'm fine. That fight took a lot out of me.

Pit: Me too. I'd just like to rest for a little while. Wake me when there is another fight going on.

Link: no problem.

Pit then lay down on his back and started sleeping. Link then noticed something about Pit. He saw how big and nice his feet were and wondered something about Pit. That's when an idea started forming in Link's head. Link then carried Pit to the Hyrule Temple as carefully as he could so Pit wouldn't wake up. He then put Pit on a table and tied him up in a spread eagle position. That's when Pit started waking up.

Link: But your feet are so yummy.

Link licked Pit's arches.
Pit was forming tears in his eyes.

Pit: HA

Link started licking Pit's toes and actually sucked on them as well. Pit's voice had died down from laughing so much.

Pit passed out.
Link licked his feet some more and finally stopped.

Link: MMMMM. You have some yummy feet there Pit.

Link untied Pit and took him to a teleportation pod to Skyworld.
Link couldn't get over what he did to Pit and would love to do it again sometime.
Pit was transported to Skyworld but was still unconscious and yet he had a smile on his face.
